

DR. DARLENE P. AUGER

BIOGRAPHY

A Cree woman originally from Wabasca, who resides in Edmonton (Amiskwâci Wâskahikan), is a mother of two young ladies, Fawn and Kîstin. Darlene has a Psychology Degree from the University of Alberta and a Doctoral Degree from the University Nuhelotine Thayotsi Nistameyimakanak Blue Quills in “Iyiniw Pimâtisiwin Kiskeyihtamowin” - Indigenous Life Knowledge. Darlene is passionate about teaching, developing Cree cultural resources, performing arts and healing practice.

In 2001, Darlene had a spiritual vision to create a healing method after an ancient Indigenous parenting tool for the healing benefit of all people. Darlene operates her practice out of her home and travels to mentor and share her healing all over the world. She is an accomplished facilitator, having presented locally, nationally and abroad.
